CMDS Validator Guide

A CMDS Validator is a certified subject-matter expert who reviews, verifies, and approves worker competency self-assessments in Keyera's Competency Management and Development System (CMDS).

Validator Responsibilities

- Verify Competence: Confirm workers have the knowledge and practical skills to perform tasks independently.
- Review Self-Assessments: Agree or disagree with a worker's self-evaluations and document the rationale or supporting evidence.
- Apply Standards: Use approved validation methods and follow system ethical guidelines.

Training and Certification

Course Format: One-day online training, delivered through Microsoft Teams.

Requirements:

- Supervisor or leadership approval
- Relevant subject-matter expertise
- Extensive experience with the equipment and processes being evaluated
- Commitment to unbiased assessments and adherence to Keyera's safety and operational standards

Registration

To register for validator training, email admin_cmds@keyera.com and include:

- Department
- Supervisor's name
- Operations area

Validator Tasks

Review of the Competency Submission

When a worker submits competency for validation, the validator reviews the self-assessment and determines whether the worker can safely and independently perform the task.

- Open the validation request.
- Review the worker's self-assessment.
- Consider:
 - Demonstrated knowledge
 - Practical ability
 - Previous observations
 - Required training and certifications
- Decide whether the self-assessment accurately reflects the worker's competency

Validate Competency

The validator either agrees or disagrees with the worker's self-assessment.

If You Agree

- Competent - assess the worker as competent and record the reason for your decision.
- Needs Training - record the reason for your decision and meet with the worker to set up the training required.

If You Disagree

- Record why.
- Meet with the worker to discuss the competency.
- Determine next steps:
 - Additional training required
 - Coaching required
 - Self-assessment needs to be updated

Document and Follow Up

Validation is more than clicking "Approve." The validator provides supporting comments and ensures the worker receives any needed development.

- Provide meaningful comments.
- Confirm required training is completed if needed.
Validate only competencies that you are qualified to validate.

CMDS Validation

Individual Validation

- Start validation in CMDS either by:
 - Scrolling down on the main page of your CMDS profile to the Learning Portal, under Competencies, select Validate Competencies; or
 - Selecting Validations from the left sidebar, under the Management category.
- The individuals you are the validator for, who have submitted competencies for validation, will be listed.

If someone is missing from this list, they may not have submitted their competencies for validation, or you may not be validated in the competencies they have submitted. To confirm which individuals you are the validator for, select Contacts from your CMDS homepage to review.

- Select the employee you would like to validate
- Select the competency number you would like to validate
- Indicate whether you agree with the person's self-assessment
- Record the reason for your decision
- Click Next to move to the next competency submitted for validation

Bulk Validating

- Access in CMDS by selecting Tools from the left sidebar, under the System category
- Under Bulk Update, select Validate Competencies
- Select the person and profile you would like to validate
- Check the box next to the competencies you would like to validate and indicate whether you agree or disagree with the self-assessments
- Record the reason for your decision

Please note: this validation, including comments, will be applied to all the competencies you have selected.

Additional Information

- You can only validate competencies that you yourself are validated in
- During the validation, you may want to check the individual's Education & Training to verify they have completed their assignments and are up to date on all requirements.
 - To view an individual's Education & Training:
 - Select People from the left sidebar, under the System category
 - Use the Criteria filter to search for an individual, then select Education to the right of their name
- If you disagree with a person's Yes self-assessment, CMDS automatically assigns "Needs Training" to the competency
